Three Rivers Kiwanis auction a big success

MILO/BROWNVILLE - Summer is the season for open-air auctions and Three Rivers Kiwanis of Milo-Brownville got started early with their annual auction. A yard sale, raffle, and auction food each added to the event and its success. The proceeds of the auction activities will help support the many programs Kiwanis helps fund throughout the year to benefit area children as well as make possible special donations to several other programs. Many donated gift cards and gift certificates were won by bidders along with the other auction items that filled the floor. Auction bidding is always interesting and often full of surprises as the items are brought forward and sold. The new Ruger 10/22 rifle donated by Brett Kirschbaum of Dragon Denz Armory saw some lively bidding before it was finally won by Ricky Braden.

The yard sale outside saw steady traffic daily before the auction and the five dollar and three dollar a bag pricing worked out well for the club and the customers. The raffle tickets brought prizes to four lucky winners: a $200 gas card donated by McKusick Petroleum was won by David Lewis; the $100 Tradewinds card was won by Ella Lyford; a $100 gift card from Camden National Bank was won by Herb Carey; and the $100 gift certificate donated by Graves Service Station was won by Cathy Pelletier. Burgers, hot dogs, home-made fries, dough boys, popcorn, soda, juice, and water were all available throughout the auction.

The 2015 Three Rivers Kiwanis Auction is a memory now, but other auctions are coming right up. Dover-Foxcroft Kiwanis holds their annual auction July 23, 24, and 25. It's another great place for yard sale bargains, good auction food, raffle chances, and auction treasures waiting to be won. Brownville Old Home Days features an auction in the yard of the Brownville Community Church. Inside a quilt show will be displaying the work of area quilters.

Dover-Foxcroft Kiwanis annual Auction

DOVER-FOXCROFT - The Dover-Foxcroft Kiwanis Annual Auction is underway now through Saturday, July 25. There is a new and improved look this year with a dedicated bidding area, dedicated handicap parking spaces, and a Big Birthday Blast celebrating 100 years of Kiwanis International all three nights with a special tent, displays, huge and free birthday cake on Friday night, balloons, freebies, raffles, and gigantic party atmosphere. They will also have the New England Kiwanis Governor, Governor Elect, and Past Kiwanis International Trustee in attendance.

The annual auction will have all of its usual bargains galore at the Auction Block, Bargain Barn, Book Barn and of course food in the two trailers. Darling's Ice Cream Truck will make an appearance on Thursday night from 5:30 - 7 p.m., and Saturday will feature a complete Maple Baked Bean Supper with Maple Baked Beans from Bob's Sugarhouse, Cole Slaw, Rolls, Hot Dogs, and Beverages.

Bidders will see new bidding cards with paint sticks to wave high and make your bids known to the well known team of auctioneers including Paul Davis, Chairman, David Clukey, and George Barton. Participants will be asked to turn these bidding cards in at the end of each evening and will pick up the same number the next night if you return. These will make for better visibility for the auctioneers, and you won't have to worry about remembering to bring them back each day/night.

Also amongst new features this year - there will be a specified time period and opportunity for Auction goes to tour the Barn for a peek at the items coming up for auction thus giving participants a chance to see what they might be interested in bidding on. This has been a request for years which the Dover-Foxcroft Kiwanis will be able to fulfill this year.

One of the featured items this year to be auctioned off Friday evening will be an 18 ft boat, trailer, and 115 hp motor. There are many nice pieces of second-hand furniture, appliances, and sporting goods along with hundreds of other "must have" bargains. They look forward to a big crowd to celebrate the 100th birthday of Kiwanis and to help raise money for our many local charities including BackPack Programs, Key Clubs, Food Cupboards in the Gulfport and Dover-Foxcroft areas along with many more. In the meantime - buy one of their raffle tickets featuring three Pre-Paid Visa Cards - $300, $200, and $100. Tickets can be purchased from any Kiwanis member or one of the following local businesses on weekends - Bangor Savings Bank, Maine Highland Federal Credit Union, Shaw's SuperMarkets, and Will's Shop 'N Save. Drawing to be held Saturday night July 25 at end of Auction.

All proceeds support Kiwanis Children Charities.

River Festival

'Somewhere Over the Rainbow' July 25

by Mike Lange
GUILFORD - The 11th annual Piscataquis River Festival gets underway on Saturday, July 25 with a full day of activities, starting with breakfast at the United Methodist Church at 7 a.m. and ending with a spectacular fireworks display after dark.

This year's theme is the "Wizard of Oz" and parade participants are encouraged to decorate their floats in the spirit of the 1939 classic movie.

According to committee chair Carrie Fellows, the reaction has been great. "We've had a lot of people excited about the parade this year," Fellows said. "A lot of businesses are getting involved and our sponsorship response has been great."

The all-day celebration will be missing only one ingredient this year: the Herring Brothers Pig Scramble. "They decided to take a year off because of their workload and the expense," Fellows said. But they'll be back next year for the bicentennial.

The 2016 festival, already in its planning stages, coincides with Guilford's 200th birthday.

There are still plenty of family activities on tap during this weekend's celebration.

Community Fitness will host a free kid's fun run started at 8 a.m. at the center, and the first 24 youngsters that sign up will get a free t-shirt.

The River Festival 5-K for adults gets underway at 8:45 a.m. with registration at 8:15 a.m. The race fee is $15 plus a food donation and more information is available at 876-4613.

The "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" parade through downtown Guilford starts at 9:30 a.m. and disbands at the ball field.

Fellows said that a cruise-in for classic cars is also on the schedule, which has worked well since many antique vehicles participate in the parade. "We've had anywhere from 15 to 45 cars in the parade, so many drivers bring them right down to the festival grounds," she said.

There will be live music by Dime Store Heroes from 1-5 p.m., a youngster's pie-eating contest at 2 p.m., the River Festival Rubber Duck Race at 3 p.m., music by Out of the Blue from 5-9 p.m. and fireworks after dark.

The popular tsunami water slide will be back along with the firefighters' fountain and bounce house for the energetic youngsters. Naturally, there will be plenty of food concessions from snacks to full dinners.

Rubber duck sales are going very well, Fellows said. The first blue duck to cross the finish line will win $250 for its lucky owner; the pink one, $125; and the yellow duck, $50. Ducks are on sale at the Guilford town office and several retail locations around town.

Fellows said that in addition to drawing big crowds to Guilford, the festival also allows nonprofit organizations to showcase their activities. "We have benefit softball tournaments every year with a very good response," she said. "In many cases, the parade floats will help promote local charities or community organization."

Piscataquis River Festival partners this year are Maine Highlands Credit Union, Hardwood Products/Puritan Medical Products, A.E. Robinson Oil Company, C.A. Dean Hospital, McKusick Petroleum, Mayo Regional Hospital, Thomas Logging & Forestry Inc. and Haley Construction.

Of course, nice weather would be the icing on the cake, but Fellows said she's optimistic. "Everything is on, rain or shine," she said. "We've only had a total of 15 minutes of rain in the 10 years we've had this."

For more information and updates, visit the Piscataquis River Festival or town of Guilford's Facebook pages.

"WE ARE LOSING OUR MARBLES" - Dexter Family Practice began a weight loss challenge with patients at their office in late July. The program started with a $2 bag of marbles. All patients who wish to participate put 1 marble for each pound lost in a jar. According to Margaret Towle, Administrator of Reddy Health Center, "Eventually we separated the jars - one for women, one for the men - and it has rapidly grown into something wonderful! Patients love to hear the clink of the marbles! Some people we have been working with for years with educators, diet counselors, etc. haven't lost an ounce but have now lost 5-7 pounds in 2 months! It's incredible! Since the first of May, the girls have lost 132 lbs and the guys have lost 91 lbs for a total of 223 in 2 months. We have a big poster in the waiting area showing the progress." Towle adds "We are having a week long celebration from July 27 - 31 as we have reached the 300 lb milestone. All patients of Dexter Family who are participating are encouraged to stop in and sign up for a drawing, get a prize, etc." (Margaret Towle photo)

Dover Cove Farmer's Market: Keeping it fresh and local

by Mike Lange
DOVER-FOXCROFT — The biggest challenge Gale Robinson had on Tuesday afternoon was keeping the awning over her sales counter from flying away.

"The breeze off the river is great, but sometimes you can have too much of it," she said with a laugh as she held onto the frame for a few minutes.

Robinson's Leaves and Blooms and Rollins Orchards were the only two vendors on site early last week at the Dover Cove Farmer's Market, but the duo attracted a steady stream of customers.

The market is also in a new location this year: the Piscataquis Chamber of Commerce parking lot. For the past two seasons, they were located in the A.E. Robinson lot across the road from the Chamber, but were unable to use it this year. "They've been very good to us," Gale Robinson said. "But I understand they're doing something with the property this summer."

Robinson added that the Chamber parking lot is smaller than the old venue, but there's plenty of room for more vendors.

"We're doing okay on Saturdays, but I'd like to see Tuesdays perk up a bit," she said.

Roger Drazek of Rollins Orchards agrees. "Gale and I have been with Dover Cove since we started out at the YMCA (on Park Street) four years ago," he said. "This is a much more visible location."

In addition to Leaves and Blooms and Rollins, other Dover Cove Farmer's Market participants include the Pike Farm in Exeter, the River Run Farm and Spruce Mill Farm, both in Dover-Foxcroft; and Two Roads Farm in Sangerville.

The market's operating hours are Tuesdays from 2-6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

The market also offers space to any nonprofit or community service organization on a rotating basis. This week, Andy Vaness of the Piscataquis Public Health Council had a display set up about the Supplemental Assistance Nutritional Program (SNAP).

"It's a perfect venue for us, since one of our goals is to convince families to eat healthy foods," Vaness said. "You can't get much fresher than produce right from local farms."

Dover Cove Farmer's Market also accepts EBT cards and major credit cards for purchases. This year, thanks to a grant from the USDA Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive, SNAP and EBT shoppers who spend $10 or more are eligible for up to $10 in matching funds to spend on the locally-grown produce.

Betsy Daubenspeck of Houston, Texas has a summer home on Sebec Lake and visits the the Dover Cove Farmer's Market often. "They're such nice people," she said while Drazek weighed a bag of beans for her. "Fresh vegetables are so much better for you. It's nice to know where your food is grown, too."

Rollins Orchards of Garland, founded in 1821, is one of the oldest family-owned farms in the region and probably in the state. "Our specialty is apples," said Drazek. "But we also grow a nice variety of vegetables, raise our own beef and pork, make maple syrup and recently became a licensed creamery," he said.

Leaves and Blooms is a fourth-generation family farm, offering four seasons of farm products including lettuce, greens, herbs, eggs and homemade baked goods. They also make health and beauty products and offer farm-to-table catering.

Carol Clark of Dover-Foxcroft made a quick stop at Leaves and Blooms on her way to yoga class, but said she normally spends more time at the market. "I definitely prefer fresh vegetables," she said. "They're not only healthier, but they taste a lot better."

That's also the opinion of Derrick Buschmann, a teacher at Foxcroft Academy, who stopped by with his daughters Adelaide and Susannah. "I try to get down here as often as I can," he said. "The homemade breads are delicious. With a lot of farmers using greenhouses now, you can also get fresh fruit and vegetables right into late fall."

Conversely, Buschmann also likes the idea of getting a traditional fall product — apple cider from Rollins Orchards — in the summer. "It's fresh and it's local. That's what's important to me," he said.

Guilford youngster raising $6,000 for Make-A-Wish Foundation

LILLY BURGESS AND HER MOM, KATIE

by Mike Lange
GUILFORD – Sometimes it's hard to convince a 5-year-old to sit still for a half-hour.

But on July 3, Lilly Burgess of Guilford and her mother, Katie, spent nearly nine hours outside of Goulette's IGA selling baked goods for the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

"She only took two short breaks all day," said Katie Burgess. "The response was amazing. We raised $1,479."

Lilly Burgess, who turns 6 on Aug. 4, had been talking to her family about doing something to help sick children for more than a year. "Mom went online and found the Make-A-Wish Foundation," Lilly said. "That's when I decided to raise money to help sick children."

So far, Lilly has raised nearly $3,500 through sales of Make-A-Wish bracelets, direct donations and events like the bake sale. She'll also have a booth at the Piscataquis River Festival on Saturday, July 25.

"She has always been focused on helping others," said her father, Alan. He also said he had a first-hand experience with Make-A-Wish when he accompanied his brother and a young cancer patient on a trip to Florida. "Thankfully, he seems to be doing well today," said Alan Burgess.

The nonprofit foundation grants the wishes of youngsters diagnosed with life-threatening illnesses, usually with vacation trips that their families could not otherwise afford. In Maine, requests come in on the average of every five days.

Lilly also spoke at a recent Guilford United Methodist Church service about her fundraising efforts, and collections on the third Sunday of August and September will now go toward the Make-A-Wish Foundation. "We're so proud of her," said Katie. "She is not shy about telling her story."

Katie, who will be a first grader at Piscataquis Community Elementary School this fall, is also selling 10-chance raffle tickets and all items have been donated by community businesses. They range from gift certificates to a lap quilt and a platter of home style cookies and the drawing will be Aug. 31.

She also has a Facebook page – Lilly Has Adopted a Wish – and an account at Maine Highlands Federal Credit Union for direct donations.

Katie Burgess added that Lilly's fundraising events have also had another positive effect. "The more we've done, the more we realize how much it means to the community," she said.
