AMANDA THOME SIGNS BOOKS AT SANGERVILLE LIBRARY - Several area residents visited the Sangerville Library on September 2, when the library hosted Amanda Howard Thome for the signing of her first book, “Worlds Apart—Ruination.” Thome, who grew up in Sangerville, will return to the Sangerville Library for another book signing in the spring of 2015 when the second book in her trilogy is published.
Center Coffee House opens next to Center Theatre

DOVER FOXCROFT The Center Theatre in Dover-Foxcroft has announced that it has reached a long-term agreement with the soon to open Center Coffee House, which will open in the theater’s recently converted box-office space.

“I can think of no more perfect business to open next door to the Center Theatre than the Center Coffee House,” says Executive Director Angela Bonacasa. “In addition to bringing a much appreciated business into the downtown area, its perfect location will enable theatre patrons to enjoy freshly brewed in-season coffee and locally crafted baked goods before or after a show. Each business will have its own hours, of course, but there will be many opportunities for collaboration and partnership around theatre events.”

Owned and operated by Lori Sharrow, the Center Coffee House has been planned expressly to serve a client base which is currently underserved in the Dover-Foxcroft area. Opening on October 6, it will provide homemade food items prepared by Stutzman’s Farm Stand and Bakery, free Wi-Fi, a casual atmosphere, and, of course, really great coffee. The two businesses have already started discussing different ways that they can work together.

“Events like the upcoming Halloween festivities, the Hometown Holidays celebration, and the Center Theatre holiday play are all events that will benefit from the existence of the Center Coffee House,” says Bonacasa. “I am personally very excited to explore all the ways that having a great coffee house right downtown benefits all of us.”

During a routine physical it was discovered that Kasee, a graduate of Maine Maritime Academy, and son of Scott and Lori Wilson of Dexter, had a rare blood disease called Myelodysplastic Syndrome, or MDS.

The only cure for MDS is a bone marrow transplant. The transplant was completed August 11 and Kasee is doing well. He will spend many weeks in Boston with much recovery time, up to a year before he will be cleared to pursue his career. There will be many medical expenses, many trips back and fourth to Boston and much financial burden on Kasee and his family.

We are in search for anyone willing to sell tickets, help with food preparation, clean up, food delivery etc. Please call Barbara Whitney at 924-3443 (evenings) or Lori Malatesta 270-1551 (anytime).

Maine Day of Rememberance honors murder victims

MAINE - The seventh annual National Day of Rememberance for Murder Victims will be on September 25. The Maine Chapter, National Organization of Parents of Murdered Children and Other Survivors of Homicide Victims (POMC) will commemorate the Maine Day of Rememberance for Murder Victims on Thursday, September 25, from 1 to 3 p.m., in the Fireplace Lounge, Randall Student Center, University of Maine, Augusta. This observance will pay tribute to the hundreds of Maine related people who have been murdered.

The program will include a proclamation by Governor Paul LePage, remarks by Rev. Kate Braestrup, Chaplain, Maine Warden Service, Deputy Attorney General Lisa Marchese, and POMC Maine Chapter leader, Arthur Jette. Prayers of invocation and benediction will be offered by Rev. Bob Dorf, and the program will close with the beautiful voice of Tina Charret. Survivors and others will again be privileged to experience the “Empty Place at The Table” memorial on display, courtesy of New Hope for Women.

According to Arthur Jette, “Every murder has devastating effects on our families and in our communities. It weakens the fabric of our society. It shatters much of what was joyous and valuable in the lives of surviving family and friends, and it’s important for the public to remember that anyone can become a victim”.

The Maine Chapter, POMC has provided support services for surviving family members of murder victims, as well as murder prevention programs for more than twenty-three years, and recently dedicated a permanent memorial monument in Augusta to honor homicide victims.

The event is free, and open to the public. Refreshments will be served following the program. Those who have lost someone to homicide are encouraged to bring a framed, free-standing photo, and any small personal item of their loved one, for our memorial display table. For more information, or directions call (207) 277-3518, or (207) 623-8642.

CHCS receives high Medicare marks

MAINE - Community Health and Counseling Services’ (CHCS) Home Health Services recently had two unannounced in-depth Medicare Surveys in June and July 2014 and is proud to announce that both were commended as Deficiency-Free. This means that CHCS met all the interests of the individuals who receive care and services and met an additional requirement for efficient and effective operation of both its home health and hospice programs.

CHCS works diligently to protect and promote patient rights in its care. The electronic medical record utilized by staff assists in this process. The surveyors commented on the clarity and completeness of patient records and highlighted staff excellence in clinical documentation.

Helen Burlock, Health Services Director, commented that, “these deficiency free surveys mean that CHCS’s Health Services Department has met both state and federal health care quality standards to the highest possible degree.” CHCS salutes its compassionate and professional team of nurses, therapists, social workers, home care aides, and the dedicated administrative staff who provide leadership, education and commitment to the agency.

For more information on CHCS Home Health and Hospice Services, call 1-800-924-0366 or an office in your region.

Citizens Still Concerned About Potential East-West Corridor
by Lesley M. Fernow

Concerned citizens are meeting regularly and building support for a community rights ordinance in Dover-Foxcroft opposing the construction of the East-West Corridor. While many residents have voiced that the project is “dead” because they have not been hearing about it in the media, this citizen group is certain that the project is alive and well and urges Dover-Foxcroft residents to get involved.

Their motto is “Who Decides? We Do.”

They point out that not only did Andy Vigue, the son of Peter Vigue and new standard-bearer for Cianbro Corporation’s project, state in June that Cianbro was “in the final stages of preliminary development” for the project, but Peter Vigue and Darryl Brown continue to state “it’s going to happen.” Governor LePage touts the importance of northern Maine as a byway for international products to reach the central US and has emphasized his relationship with development-hungry Canadian Prime Minister Stephen Harper and the positioning of Cianbro to benefit from Canadian investment. Furthermore, development efforts are continuing for other projects along the proposed route which leads people to “connect the dots” and feel confident that a corridor is still in the works, albeit quietly. This silent strategy is, the group believes, deliberately intended create false comfort and perhaps to quiet the opposition.

Meanwhile, witnessing the EPA permit given in Plymouth for a sludge enterprise that is fouling the air and damaging the environment draws attention to the failure of the permitting process and regulatory agencies to truly protect communities. Unfortunately, residents there trusted that the regulators would see that the business would harm their environment. As we learned in the CELDF taught Democracy School, regulatory agencies are in business to assist corporate entities in obtaining permits, and only limit how much damage is allowed. The EPA decided the odor and environmental risk were not “bad enough” to prohibit the sludge business.

Time is passing while behind the scenes Cianbro’s international corporate partners are buying land for an East-West Corridor. While this may please some, for others in central Maine including the Pen-obseot nation whose heritage is inextricably woven with the natural environment, farmers and many individuals who came to Maine because of its nature, water, and air; this is a potential life-changing and world-changing catastrophe.

We ask anyone concerned about the East West Corridor development to act on what the Maine State Constitution proclaims is our “unalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform, or totally change government” and to “join us in writing a local community rights ordinance that will protect us.” Attend our next meeting September 28th from 3-5pm at the Morton Avenue Community room (Town Office building). If you are from another town in the potential path of the corridor, organize your community to draft an ordinance. Help us to practice true representative democracy. If you live elsewhere in Maine, take heed. You are not immune from the corporate land grab. Watch Nestle take Maine’s water or witness oil pipeline, mining and wind farm development. Finally, if you want to learn more, consider signing up for a fall Democracy School so you can find out about your rights as a citizen. For more information call 992-6822.

Piscataquis Soil and Water Conservation celebrates 70th Anniversary

SANGERVILLE - The staff and Board of Directors at the Piscataquis County Soil and Water Conservation District (PCSWCD) are hosting a 70th Anniversary Celebration on Saturday, September 27 at the South Sangerville Grange. The festivities will begin at 4 p.m. and will include a social hour and networking, a local, seasonal dinner, guest speakers including the Maine Association of Conservation Districts Executive Director Tom Gordon, cultural heritage displays and more. They will present Dawna Blackstone, the Appalachian Mountain Club’s Regional Education Coordinator with our 2014 Outstanding Conservation Educator of the Year Award.

During the Great Depression, our country became ravaged by the lack of soil and water resource protection and soil erosion was a great concern. The lack of conservation efforts resulted in the “Dust Bowl” era, which was devastating to our nation’s farmers, who were already struggling during this time. In response to this devastation, President Roosevelt formed the Soil Erosion Service in 1937, which eventually became both the Conservation Districts and the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. He believed that soil conservation concerns would be most efficiently and properly dealt with at a local level.

From this national effort, the Piscataquis County Soil and Water Conservation District was formed in 1944 to protect the soil and water in this region of Maine, and since that time they have grown to help protect and manage all of our county’s natural resources. Their vision is of an ecologically stronger Maine, with healthy soils, pristine water, sustainable forests and agriculture, and informed and involved conservation-minded residents.

Today, they are involved with educational programming in Piscataquis County schools and host a growing list of annual educational events. They maintain two public outdoor educational sites – our Demonstration Forest in Williamsburg and the Law Farm in Dover-Foxcroft – and are a leader in teaching our youth about forestry and agriculture in our area through our successful coordination of educational opportunities for youth, schools and families. We serve Piscataquis County landowners by educating and connecting them with information and plans of action, for concerns pertaining to natural resource conservation, agriculture and forestry. They provide technical trainings and programming for licensed foresters, farmers, teachers, students, contractors, lake and road associations and municipalities. Together, the PCSWCD and our partners deliver conservation work efficiently and effectively through the sharing of resources. Through this important work, they have solidified our place in this community and have seen our hard work have a lasting, positive effect throughout this county.

For more information or to RSVP on the 70th Anniversary Celebration, contact the staff at the Piscataquis County Soil and Water Conservation District by calling (207) 564-2321 ext. 3, sending us an email at info@piscataquisswcd.org, or by stopping by our office in the Pine Crest Business Park in the USDA Service Center.

DEAN R. THOMPSON

DEXTER – Dean R. Thompson passed away September 12, 2014 surrounded by his family. He was born March 27, 1928 in Machias, a son of Reynold and Statira Thompson. He attended Dexter schools, graduating from N. H. Fay High School, Class of 1948 and served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War. Dean attended Husson College and the Aetna School of Insurance in Boston. He returned to Dexter and entered his father’s business, Judkins Insurance, purchasing the firm upon his father’s retirement. He was a member of the Dexter Jaycees and served on numerous community boards, including the Town Council for many years. He was a member of the Dexter Club for over 40 years and was a life member of Penobscot Lodge Masons. He and his wife Gwen also owned and operated an antique business. In his youth he was a hunter and fisherman but as he aged he became more of a lover and respecter of nature. His greatest pleasure was taking a cup of coffee, riding his truck into the fields on his farm and watching deer and other wildlife that might appear. He is survived by his wife, Gwen (Haynes) Thompson; 2 daughters, Daphne and husband David Sanders, and Jan Nadeau; 5 grandchildren, Meena and Aaron Sanders, Abigail (Sanders) and husband Tom Hoke, Jeremy Nadeau and fiancé Heather, and Jonathan Nadeau; and 1 great granddaughter, Hannah Chickadee Hoke. He was predeceased by his brother Robert and parents. While this provides an outline of a life well lived, for Dean it is not enough by half. He was honest, thoughtful, generous and irreverent at all of the right times and places. To know him, to be touched by his generosity and wisdom is to be blessed. Memorial services were held Tuesday, September 16, at the Dexter Universalist Church, Church Street, Dexter, with the Rev. Ray Beless officiating. Burial will be in the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Dexter. A reception will be held at the Dexter Club following the interment. Memorial donations may be made to Sarah’s House, P. O. Box 931, Bangor, ME 04401; or the Dexter Sunshine Club, 59 Acadia Street, Dexter, ME 04930. Arrangements by Crosby & Neal, 61 Main Street, Dexter. Spruce Run-Womancare Alliance gathering

DOVER-FOXCROFT - Peaks Kenney State Park was the site of a special recognition event for the Steering Committee, staff and volunteer members of the Spruce Run-Womancare Alliance. On the afternoon of August 28, a gathering of many of those individuals turned out to honor the special efforts and achievements of past and current volunteers and Steering Committee members.

At the cookout, attendees were treated to a great variety of salads, hamburgers, hotdogs and sweets as they took time to reunite and celebrate both the merger of two great organizations as well as the past contributions of special volunteers.

Catherine Kurr and Ginger Hutchins, Volunteer Coordinators, provided remarks about the value of volunteer efforts for the past year. Special gifts were given to mark the long time efforts of past Steering Committee co-chairs Carol Shoreborn, of Dexter, and Neil Greenberg of Charleston. Jim Wentworth, of Monson, was recognized for his long-time membership, on the Womancare and most recently the Spruce Run-Womancare Alliance Steering Committee, with the re-gift of a special bottle of Consensus Wine, which he had ironically bestowed to Cindy Freeman Cyr, many years ago. Also honored for their contributions of service as steering committee members were Leslie Forstadt, Judi Josiah Martin, Marty Kelly, and Suzanne Burke.

The greatest award of appreciation, the “Answering the Call” award, was given to the Mayo Regional Hospital, for its many years of providing all hotline pager services to Womancare. Mayo Regional Hospital, CEO Marie Vienneau, Lynn Gagnon VP, Patient Care, Emergency Department staff, Christine Mckenney and Betsey King were all present to accept the award. In giving the award, Ginger Hutchins read the inscription which stated, “Spruce Run-Womancare Alliance recognizes Mayo Regional Hospital for over 30 years of answering the calls of those affected by domestic violence.” Beginning October 1, the Spruce Run-Womancare Alliance Hotline will be accessed by calling 1-800-863-9909.

Dave Greenham returns to Dexter

DEXTER - David Greenham - actor, director, playwright and newspaper reporter - will return to town with his production of “Maine At Work” on Friday, September 26 at 6:30 p.m. at the Abbott Memorial Library.

This one hour presentation asks the audience: what do YOU think about the prospects for work in Maine? Maine at Work takes this topic and turns it into a wide-ranging performance based on historical documents and characters, humor, little-known facts, thought-provoking tales (tall and otherwise), and perspectives from real Mainers. When the performance is finished, actor David Greenham (Taxing Maine, As Maine Grows) will lead the audience in a conversation about jobs and employment in their town. There is no attempt to change opinions or to reach consensus; the goal is simply to encourage the audience to reflect on and share their thoughts about what they have heard and seen.

The performance and discussion are funded by the Maine Humanities Council, and brought to you by the Abbott Memorial Library, the Dexter Historical Society and Wayside Theatre. The performance is free. FMI: 924-7292

Three Rivers Kiwanis is growing

MILO/BROWNVILLE - Three Rivers Kiwanis of Milo-Brownville, has inducted a new member, Milo Chief of Police Damien Pickel. Chief Pickel was honored and inducted by long-time member Eben DeWitt on Wednesday, September 10th, and was our featured speaker at that meeting. The club is enjoying the use of their new building at 24 Gerrish Road, north of downtown Milo.

Chief Pickel described his professional background and how he came to be chief in Milo. He talked to the members about drug problems in and around the Milo area and how he is working for change. He goes to the elementary school every morning to greet the students as they arrive. “I want them to see the police in a positive light,” he explained. “I believe this is the best kind of outreach.”

Weekly Kiwanis meetings usually conduct pertinent business, discuss upcoming events, and have a speaker. Kiwanis International was founded in 1915 in Detroit, Michigan, and became an international organization with the creation of the Kiwanis Club of Hamilton, Ontario, the following year. On January 21, 2015, Kiwanis will celebrate its 100th anniversary. In the early years, members focused on business networking, but in 1919, the organization changed its focus to service. In the 1960s, worldwide expansion was approved, and within the decade, Kiwanis International-Europe was formed, representing Kiwanians in 11 European nations.

Three Rivers Kiwanis of Milo-Brownville (established in 1991) meets every Wednesday morning at the Kiwanis Building at 24 Gerrish Road at 6:30 a.m., except the Last Wednesday (be it the fourth or fifth Wednesday of the month), which meets at 6:30 p.m. There will be a birthday celebration on Wednesday, November 5. For membership information, call their secretary at 943-6909. For information on building use call Bobby Ellison at 943-2317.

NATIVE AQUATIC PLANTS IDENTIFIED - Seventeen Dexter Lakes Association members recently collected dozens of native plant fragments when surveying both the small and large lake this summer. The plants were bagged in water, then identified and categorized following the survey. The only invasive plant identified was Purple Loose Stripe, found mostly around the small lake, which was then cut, bagged and taken to the transfer station to be burned.
