During a routine physical it was discovered that Kasee, a graduate of Maine Maritime Academy, and son of Scott and Lori Wilson of Dexter, had a rare blood disease called Myelodysplastic Syndrome, or MDS.

The only cure for MDS is a bone marrow transplant. The transplant was completed August 11 and Kasee is doing well. He will spend many weeks in Boston with much recovery time, up to a year before he will be cleared to pursue his career. There will be many medical expenses, many trips back and fourth to Boston and much financial burden on Kasee and his family.

We are in search for anyone willing to sell tickets, help with food preparation, clean up, food delivery etc. Please call Barbara Whitney at 924-3443 (evenings) or Lori Malatesta 270-1551 (anytime).

Paul Davis receives endorsement of Small Business Organization

SANGERVILLE – The National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) SAFE Trust PAC (Safe America's Free Enterprise) has endorsed Paul Davis in his campaign for the Maine Senate.

Davis, who is currently a state representative from Sangerville, is running for Maine Senate District 4. In its endorsement letter, the NFIB stated, "Small businesses are the backbone of the state's economy and, perhaps more importantly, they are the key to Maine's future economic prosperity. Nearly all candidates talk about their support of small business but what matters most is action, not just talk, and your voting record clearly shows that you both speak out and stand up for small business."

"This is a very important endorsement, and I thank the NFIB for their vote of confidence," Davis said. "The success of Maine's economy is tied to how well our small businesses are performing. They employ most workers in the state. These are the entrepreneurs who are putting their capital at risk and investing in Maine. For too long they've had to do this in an unfriendly regulatory environment. In recent years, we've made tremendous strides in making Maine more business friendly, but much more needs to be done. As long as I am in the Legislature, small businesses will have my support."

Paul Davis is currently serving his third term in the Maine House of Representatives. He previously was a member of the Maine Senate, where he served as Assistant Republican Leader for four years.

"I support Sheriff John Goggin without reservation..."

To the Editor:

I am writing in support of Sheriff John Goggin in his quest for another term as Sheriff of Piscataquis County.

Most of my 20 years as County Commissioner (1985 – 2005) were during Sheriff Goggin's time in office. I chaired the Commission for 18 of those 20 years which involved frequent contact with the Sheriff's Department and Sheriff Goggin. I found him to be a man of integrity, honesty, and loyal in all aspects of County work and his relationship with other County Departments was very professional. He had the respect of other county departments as well as the Sheriff's Dept.

Sheriff Goggin has had many years of experience and, with the continued support of an experienced staff, he certainly is the best and most qualified candidate for the Sheriff of Piscataquis County. The economy of Piscataquis County does not allow the spending patterns found in other Maine counties, especially those in coastal and southern parts of the state. Sheriff Goggin has successfully run a department that is responsible for a very large area, Piscataquis County being the second largest county in the State. As a former Commissioner, I never believed it was necessary to micro-manage his department since Sheriff Goggin and his staff always lived within the confines of their budget. Providing law enforcement in the Unorganized Townships along with the County as a whole, requires thorough planning and scheduling. Sheriff Goggin has completed this work for the past 24 years in a very successful and professional manner. I support Sheriff John Goggin without reservation for another term as Piscataquis County Sheriff.

Eben DeWitt, Milo

"...not a long-term solution..."

To the Editor:

The proponents who stand to profit from the proposed private East/West corridor have stated publicly that if people living in this part of Maine have a better idea for the well-being and economic development of the 'heart' of Maine, they should state it. Current evidence shows local inhabitants are doing so: if you enter Dover-Foxcroft from the south, you will note the re-furbishing of the Moosehead furniture mill in the center of downtown. It is to be a multi-use development including restaurant, small hotel, office space and private living units. Local people have already signed contracts for apartments which will allow access to local services in a small town environment. This is a re-development which will offer local jobs for many years to come and will enhance the lives of local residents as well as touring seeking the pleasures of a first class outdoor environment with nearby Sebago Lake and Peaks-Kenny state park.

Another locally based, economic strength of our area lies in the ever-growing interest in farming sustained by families determined to grow and sell local produce in a sustainable environment. Key to supporting our local development and endeavors is protection of our state's fresh water sources—they make us the envy of many who come here as tourists from other parts of the country and the world.

The East/West Corridor project would result in a long-term detriment, not a long-term solution, to the economic well-being of central Maine.

Jamie Gaudion, Dover-Foxcroft

On November 4th Dexter voters will be offered a choice of candidates for town council. The Concerned Citizens of Dexter Committee is pleased to recommend two town council candidates who will bring commitment and vitality when serving on the town council. They are a valued part of our community and have contributed significantly for many years.

Deborah "Deb" Fournier and Erlend "Fred" Sherburne stand ideally suited as council candidates because of deep roots in our town and a history of service.

Deb Fournier, born in Dexter, graduated from UMaine – Farmington and holds Bachelors and Masters Degrees. She and husband, Dave, have raised three kids to be independent, responsible adults. As a music teacher at DRHS, she has been inspirational to students and colleagues alike serving on several committees and was a grant writer leading to enhanced lighting and sound equipment for DRHS. Essentially a hometown girl, Deb has lived out of state briefly and travelled the US and Europe which has given her an appreciation for all that Maine has to offer. She has served in a number of other leadership capacities including church (Youth Choir Director), playground fundraising, and on domestic violence issues including volunteer work for Womancare. Deb cares deeply for our community and she believes that the town council a privilege and a challenge. Her vision is to bring change that will help Dexter prosper and become a stronger community.

Fred Sherburne, born in Dexter and raised on his family's farm, continues to operate as a self-employed farmer for forty-four years. He and his wife, Carol raised two children who went through our local schools and became successful educators. As a former town council member, Fred has gained experience and perspective to deal with the future challenges facing our town. He recently attained "organic farmer" status – an environmentally notable achievement. Goal-oriented, he personifies Dexter with his strong work ethic. Fred is a small business advocate who feels that businesses with one to ten employees are our community's backbone. He believes that the town council MUST be heard above that of large corporations. Fred also believes that our community and our educational system must be committed to each other for the public good.

Deb and Fred remain unconvinced that the proposed E/W Corridor is a good thing for Dexter. They are skeptical that any local good can come from an international, limited access private toll road. A lack of information from corporate proponents has reinforced their position.

Deb Fournier and Fred Sherburne stand for inclusivity in government at all levels and they value public participation. Personal histories attest that they do "walk that walk!"

As you enter the polling place on November 4th, your vote for Deborah "Deb" Fournier and Erlend "Fred" Sherburne for Dexter Town Council will continue to support positive change for our town.

The Concerned Citizens of Dexter Committee: Bob Fritsch, Tina & Gary Santos, Lisa & Mark Muskusik, Mike & Wanda Curtis, Judy Bennett, Dana Cronin, Ron Apel, Ruth Goff, Jill Jones, Karan Slight, Ken Chadwick, Dave Pearson, Fred & Carol Sherburne, Sherril & Ed Langlais, Deb & Dave Fournier, Carol Shoreborn, Linda Tisdale.

To the Editor:

As Election Day approaches, there are many questions on the minds of voters concerning the economy, energy, the environment, education, health care, and the overall quality of life for young and old in this largely rural state. This is certainly true around central Maine where all these factors are of concern to Republicans, Democrats, and Independents alike. Tying these issues together for the people of the central Maine region is the proposed E/W Corridor project being planned by Cianbro Corporation. The project is planned to include a limited access toll road and the rights of way for various utilities, pipelines and energy and communications pathways that would bisect the state on its way from Calais to Cobscook Bay and ultimately provide the port of St. John, NB, and possibly even Eastport, ME, with a more direct connection to Montreal and beyond while tying in with the vast energy and transportation infrastructure already in place or still being developed in the US Midwest and southern Canada.

To help answer some important questions concerning the corridor and all the other related issues, a "Candidates Maine Event: Their Perspectives on Eminent Domain, Energy Initiatives, and the E/W Corridor" will be held at the Center Theater, Dover-Foxcroft, on Thursday, October 23 (13 days before Election Day 2014), beginning at 5pm. gubernatorial, Senatorial, Congressional, and Local candidates will weigh in with their responses to 6 questions prepared by local constituents, either in person, through their representatives, or with written replies that will be read to the audience. Representative and gubernatorial candidate Mike Michaud has already agreed to participate and will be first to speak on stage.

Question 1 asks whether the proposed corridor would be beneficial or detrimental to the economy, agriculture, and natural resources of the region and state, and why it would be.

Question 2 asks how the project would be taxed (whether as private or private-public partnership, as an entire commercial unit or otherwise, and how those taxes would benefit the region and state).

Question 3 asks how the project's environmental impact would be mitigated (additional state parks, a new National Park, local mitigation efforts, etc.).

Question 4 asks, since such a corridor project and any similar ones would probably run in perpetuity, how the maximum benefit to the citizens of Maine would be realized (such as the Permanent Fund Dividend for Alaska citizens from their pipeline's profits).

Question 5 asks how each candidate would insure that each community affected by the corridor project would have a say in its location, impacts and benefits.

Question 6 asks whether each candidate feels that the North American Energy Infrastructure Act (HE3301) and the Natural Gas Permitting Reform Act (HR1900), both now moving through Congress, will expedite the proposed corridor project in Maine.

Following the responses to the 6 questions, there will be time for additional audience questions and comments addressed to all the participants. Also, a short film produced by a Maine high school student about the proposed project will be shown and he will be there to comment on it. The film is also available online at: <http://vimeo.com/99246765>

It is hoped that this event will help voters to decide which candidates at all levels will best serve the interests of the people of Maine as we all head into uncertain times together.

Edward Hummel, Concerned Citizens of Garland

"We are once again counting on Dexter voters..."

To the Editor:

The Concerned Citizens Committee of Dexter would like to thank all who voted last November for our current Councilors Ron Apel and Mark Robichaud, the candidates we endorser. Along with new members, increased citizen support and participation in monthly meetings, the Citizens' Town Council appears to enjoy a fresh attitude of Positive Change.

We are once again counting on Dexter voters to show their concern for the future of our community with Continuing Positive Change. As last year before the November election, we are sponsoring another candidates' night at our Town Hall on October 21 from 7 until 9 pm. All candidates will be invited to this public forum. Citizen participation is strongly encouraged.

Dexter's future lies with the support of our citizens. A true democracy relies on its electorate to remain informed of the issues we face. It is also important to acquaint ourselves with the views of those who would represent us. Please vote November 4 to help our community make the best decisions for Dexter's future.

Dana Cronin & Wanda Curtis, Members of the Concerned Citizens of Dexter Committee

"Administrative Unit... strongly endorses Sheriff John Goggin"

To the Editor:

The Administrative Unit of the Piscataquis County Sheriff's Office strongly endorses Sheriff John Goggin for re-election. The office of Sheriff is significantly different from that of Police Chief. While sheriffs carry out patrol and criminal investigations, they also manage jails, civil process, prisoner transport, a county wide communications system, and other constitutional duties that police chiefs never experience.

For over 24 years Sheriff Goggin has demonstrated decisive leadership in meeting the ever changing world of responsibilities that a Sheriff carries. He has managed a jail that consistently receives high grading from both state and federal inspectors, has functioned successfully within the given county budgets, has been innovative in bringing new programs that help various segments of our county's people and has done so with integrity, compassion and fairness.

He has proven his ability to continue guiding this ship over the next four years.

"...our society tolerates this massive assault on our public health..."

To the Editor:

U.S. state, and municipal health authorities are working overtime and spending millions of dollars to stem the spread of Ebola, which has killed just one person here.

Where is the comparable effort to stem the spread of heart disease, stroke, cancer, diabetes, and other chronic diseases that kill 1.4 million Americans annually and are linked conclusively to excessive consumption of animal products? According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control, that's 23 times the number killed by all infectious diseases combined, including AIDS, hepatitis, blood poisoning, and intestinal infections!

Apparently, our society tolerates this massive assault on our public health, because meat, dairy, and egg products have powerful champions in Congress. Bacteria and viruses have none.

Yet, each of us can take personal responsibility for our own and our family's health by reducing, then dropping animal products from our menu. Fresh vegetables, fruits, legumes, and whole grains contain all the nutrients our body requires and are touted by leading health authorities. Soy and nut-based meats, milks, and ice creams offer a delicious transition treat. Lots of websites provide helpful transition tips.

"...too large an increase in these tough economic times."

To the Editor:

For many years the Dexter Kiwanis Club has had a fruit sale in the fall. This was a successful fundraiser for us and our customers got a good product at a decent price. This year when we received the price list from the grove we discovered our costs had gone up over 10%. We do not feel we can pass this large increase on to the people who have bought fruit from us in the past. It is simply too large an increase in these tough economic times. We are very grateful to all the people who supported our fruit sale in the past and we may look at sponsoring another fruit sale in the future. We hold a variety of fundraisers through the year and we hope you will continue to support our efforts to improve the lives of the children in our community.

Frances Field, Secretary, Dexter Sunrise Kiwanis

"Don't pull the plug on an E/W corridor."

To the Editor:

A well-planned and constructed East/West 21st century corridor linking major seaports in down east Maine to interior destinations in Canada and westward has much in common with its 19th century counterpart – the Erie Canal. Those unable to recall or appreciate the historical impact which that engineering achievement had on the commercial development of New York State and the westward expansion of the US can look it up on the internet. Then Governor Dewitt Clinton pursued the development of the Erie Canal after the Federal government considered the project "too ambitious". Perhaps some vocal locals were revolted by the need to uproot vegetation and clear virgin forests along the route. They may have gagged at the thought of miles polluting the waterway and become apoplectic envisioning the erection of ugly locks to accommodate water level differentials. Despite such grumblings the canal was completed. It stimulated, population growth, provided employment during its construction and operation, created transportation related industries, and fostered the growth of communities at its termini and along its route.

At its zenith, 50,000 people depended on the canal for their livelihood. Though its importance as a vital east/west transportation artery waned with the introduction of more efficient and faster modes of delivery, its directional orientation endured since those newer forms of transport essentially paralleled the canal. Fast forward to the mid to late 20th century. Once in Maine, a northern journey from points south via Route 1 and less traveled scenic roads was a tedious process, especially so during winter and when time constraints begged for routes engineered for speed and safety. Motorists and truckers welcomed the completion of the North-South corridor and the arrival of I-95. Its later expansion to expedite traffic flow around southern Maine urban bottlenecks was opposed with essentially the same arguments facing the proposed East/West corridor. Environmentally conscious civil engineers, eventually smoothed over the superficial and temporary terrestrial despoliation associated with construction.

Today, the areas bordering the north/south corridor appear as pristine as Mother Nature intended. During a recent trip to Western Europe, I witnessed the impact of truck borne commerce on the major motorways, especially those leading to/from major western European seaports. Traffic jams of immense proportions occurred because car and truck density was about equal. Competition for roadway space could have been eased had trucks been furnished a dedicated avenue of travel, thereby diverting heavily laden vehicles away from primary and secondary roads and relieving traffic congestion in populated areas. Most office seeking politicians posture about the sad state of Maine's economy. I've heard only one invite the public's attention to the proximity of down east ports to Europe and their potential for becoming major deep water terminals for import/export trade. During WWII, Casco Bay, because of its relative closeness to Europe, became a major staging area for convoys destined for that continent. Do down-east ports still hold the same allure for development because of their geographical position to Old World customers? If such prospects are serious considerations in Maine's future economic planning, then an East/West corridor is a vital factor in bringing those plans to fruition.

When pondering the viability of an East/West corridor, those in positions to affect its development should keep all options open. They shouldn't be too quick to kill, forever, a project with immense potential for Maine's economic health. They should be visionaries and use some imagination. Don't pull the plug on an E/W corridor. Keep it on life support. An East/West corridor, engineered to satisfy environmental concerns and which conforms to legal requirements, can provide a vital transportation link connecting major down-east seaports to points westward. We may have another Erie Canal in the making.

Foxcroft Academy musical premieres November 14 in FA gymnasium

DOVER-FOX-CROFT - Foxcroft Academy students will be performing the musical comedy Bugsy Malone in the FA gymnasium at 7 p.m. on the evenings of Friday, November 14, and Saturday, November 15. Bugsy Malone was originally released as a British musical gangster film directed by Alan Parker in 1976. The musical is a gangster flick spoof set in Chicago and loosely based on the Prohibition era, focusing on the exploits of mobsters like Al Capone and Bugs Moran. FA's version will feature great music and dancing, plenty of memorable characters. This year's show will feature some surprise cameos from local celebrities and the Foxcroft Academy staff.

"The kids have been having a blast so far and the production is coming along nicely," said Director Josh Guthrie, who made the decision to bring the musical back to campus last year. "We've again had tremendous support from FA staff, parents, community members and local businesses, especially Pleasant River Lumber, which has once again donated much of the materials needed to build our set."

Tickets will be $8 for adults and $5 for students and can be purchased at the door. Make sure to arrive at least a few minutes early, as last years shows were both close to full capacity.

Tri-County Technical Center students constructing a greenhouse

DEXTER - Tri-County Technical Center is currently building a greenhouse for use by the Pre-Technical Program at TCTC. The Pre-Technical and Building Trades Programs are involved in the assembling of the greenhouse on site.

In addition to the construction, the Pre-Tech students will learn how to grow and use garden vegetables - from starting them in the greenhouse and later transplanting them outside as well as harvesting them, and using them in cooking healthy meals. The firewood from the trees that were cleared at the greenhouse site is going to be raffled off. TCTC is holding a raffle for a cord of split green mixed hardwood (a $200 value). Raffle tickets are available at the Tech Center and are also being sold at locations around Dexter. Proceeds will be used for completion of the greenhouse. Contact TCTC at 924-7670 for more information and to purchase raffle tickets. Tickets will be available until October 31, when the winning raffle ticket will be drawn.

Abbott Museum hour changes

Autumn art on display

PITTSFIELD - Members of Valley Arts Alliance hung the fourth installation of seasonal paintings in the hospital lobby areas at Sebasitook Valley Health (SVH) in Pittsfield recently. In partnership with Valley Arts Alliance, which is a group of over thirty artists and supporters of the arts in the Sebasitook Valley region, the hospital hosts a rotating art exhibit for public viewing.

What began in January, the exhibit features artwork by local artists using the theme of seasons as their guide. SVH President/CEO and EMHS Senior Vice-President Terri Vieira commented, "Our patients and visitors have been interested and look forward to viewing art in our hallways and waiting areas. It's a privilege to offer opportunities for local artists to showcase their original artwork in our public spaces, and these beautiful prints and paintings infuse color and endearing images that represent our region outside the walls of our community hospital."

The autumn landscapes, which are the fourth installment in the Seasons exhibit, are by local artists Pam Peltier Dickinson, Jeanne Finley, and Bonnie Ross. The artwork will be on display through mid-December when the exhibit will transition to winter-themed artwork.

According to their website (www.valleyartsalliance.org), the Valley Arts Alliance supports locations for exhibiting works by our visual artists in the Newport and Pittsfield areas. The group's goals are to offer an opportunity for artists and groups living here to collaborate and create new opportunities to be creative in the arts.
